Submission Guidelines

The EATIS 2007 conference invites short and full research papers as well as proposals for tutorials, mini-courses and special sessions. The official languages for the conference will be English, Portuguese and Spanish. Will be accepted papers in all these languages. All presentations will be in English. Papers in Portuguese and Spanish must contain abstracts in English and in them respective language (Portuguese or Spanish).

Short papers must not exceed 4 pages and full papers must not exceed 8 pages. Tutorials, mini-courses, and special sessions proposals should be restricted to 3 pages. The proposals (tutorials, mini-courses and special sessions) and papers (short and full) must be formatted according to the author guidelines set down by IEEE Computer Society.
  All short papers accepted will be presented as poster in a Panel Session. The poster dimensions are 120cm (height) x 84cm (width).

All proposals (tutorials, mini-courses and special sessions) must indicate the number of hours. We suggest round times per proposal: 1, 2, 3 or 4h in maximum.

Click here for submission process... Please, use the "Comments to Chair" field in the submissions process form to indicate that your work is a proposal (tutorials, mini-courses and special sessions).

All submitted papers will be peer-reviewed. Critical parameters will include originality, significance, relevance, technical soundness, and language clarity. Each full paper submission will be reviewed by at least three Program Committee members, guided by a senior member.
